Congrats and Welcome to The Qiskit Fall Fest

We are thrilled that you've decided to host a Fall Fest event on your campus! Our team at IBM Quantum is committed to helping you prepare and provide any resources we can for a successful event. Please see the timeline of the next few weeks below. All workshops will be recorded and shared within the Discord channel that you will be invited to, so make sure to join that once it goes live!

Qiskit | Fall Fest 2023

Discord Server Opens	August 30
Kickoff Meeting with All Organizers	September 5
First Details Required about Your Event	September 15
Finalize Your Organizing Team	September 15

There will be a small number of mandatory workshops that you must attend (or watch the replay). There will also be numerous additional optional workshops, office hours, and tutorials throughout September. Most sessions will happen Tuesday and Thursday at 10:00AM EDT.

If you can't make a session live, that's ok. You can re-watch them on your own time or ask for help or guidance directly. Please keep an eye on your email for resources, and for the invite to the Discord where all future resources will be shared.

Remember that the Qiskit Fall Fest is all about empowering you and building up your local community. If you need something, don't be afraid to ask.

Finally, this is all volunteer. If you need to step back at any point, simply let the IBM Quantum team know.

Thank you for your participation,

Qiskit Fall Fest Organizing Team
